

Direct Action Not Likely In Berlin Crisis

By JOSEPH DYNAN
Paris, Nov. 16 (AP)—Russia, replying to the peace appeal of top United Nations officials, held firm to her previous position today—and the western powers also were reported standing pat.

Russia replied she still insists on taking up the question of all Germany in any negotiations on Berlin.

Representatives of the United States, Britain and France met as the Russian reply was made public. A statement later said "their discussions showed a complete identity of views," which could mean only that the western powers were standing by their insistence that the Berlin blockade be lifted before any negotiations begin.

Clues Prove Meager In Sculptor Slaying

Couple Shot To Death In Boca Raton Home

West Palm Beach, Fla., Nov. 16 (AP)—Law enforcement authorities today sifted meager clues in the studio slaying of Leno Lazzari, 48-year-old nationally famous decorative sculptor, and his wife, Louise, 42.

The sculptor and his second wife were found shot to death in their home at Boca Raton Sunday. Both had been shot twice.

"It looks more and more like a cold, calculated, premeditated murder," said police chief W. N. Brown of Boca Raton.

Powder burns indicated the couple had been shot from a distance of not more than 12 inches, according to sheriff's deputy Jack Simmons.

"Nothing in the apartment was misplaced," Simmons said. "Everything was in its usual place."

He said a shotgun, belonging to Lazzari, had been fired and the charge struck the refrigerator. Then the weapon was replaced in its usual spot.

Mrs. Lazzari's pocketbook was found in an abandoned jeep which the killer apparently had driven to West Palm Beach from the murder scene. Police found it parked across the street from the Florida East Coast railroad station.

Stop-Gap Trolley System Takes Over In Flint Walkout

Flint, Mich., Nov. 16 (AP)—The city commission has approved a stop-gap, city-operated transportation system to take over operation of the strikebound Flint Trolley Coach Co.

City Manager George T. Gundry was directed by the commission at a meeting last night to set up such a system as soon as possible.

About 120 CIO employees of the Trolley Coach firm have been on strike for 60 days in a wage dispute. Flint has had no public transportation since the walkout began.

The company yesterday rejected a proposal for arbitrating the dispute. The union accepted it with reservations.

DEER CAMPS BURNED

Ispheming (P)—State Police are investigating a series of fires which burned five deer camps near the village of Republic just before the start of the season. Troopers said arson was suspected.

Victory At Suchow Claimed By Chiang As Regime Totters

Ships And Planes Save
U. S. Citizens

BY HAROLD K. MILKS
Nanking, Nov. 16 (AP)—The Chinese government claimed a major victory on the Suchow front tonight to climax a confused day which still left the final outcome of the battle for the approach to Nanking in doubt.

Pro-government newspapers splashed their buildings with red posters and exploded firecrackers to call attention to placards announcing the Communists had been routed northeast of Suchow and were withdrawing northeastward.

That news, circulated by the defense ministry's official military news agency, was in direct contrast to the generally accepted reports from other sources that the government control of the whole Suchow area was tottering.

Embassy Warns 7,000
The U. S. Embassy warned some 7,000 Americans to get out of China now or risk "hazardous conditions."

Government spokesman Hollington Tong denied reports Suchow had fallen or even was threatened with Red capture. He told the Associated Press:

"The city is firmly in our hands and the Reds are withdrawing to

Twin Babies Burn To Death In Farm Fire At Danforth

New British Prince May Have To Shed Title, Reds Predict

London, Nov. 16 (AP)—The Communist Daily Worker said today that Princess Elizabeth's new son may have to "shed his title" and may even become a trade union member.

The Daily Worker, which carried no news stories concerning the birth of the two-day-old prince, published a page 1 editorial headlined "That Baby."

The editorial expressed pity for one who in his future life would be "denied access to the ordinary people except as a special favor."

The paper added, however, that "the new prince possesses . . . a certain advantage over his paternal grandfather. We live in such times of special progress that by the time he grows to man's estate, he may have to shed his title—and his unearned income."

"A new vista may, therefore, open out before the young man. He may learn a trade and even become a member of a trade union. Speed the day."

Two Men Seriously Burned In Attempt To Rescue Children

Fire that swept the Ehnerd Hansen dwelling at 1:50 o'clock this afternoon at Danforth brought death to the infant twins of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Blixt, son-in-law and daughter of Mr. Hansen. Two other persons were seriously injured in the fire. They are:

Martin Hansen, about 87, the father of Ehnerd Hansen, and Ehnerd himself, who was burned in his efforts to rescue his aged father.

The condition of the aged man is considered serious.

The twin children, a boy, Ronald, and a girl, Bonnie, four months old were burned to death in the house. The twins were born June 28 at Escanaba.

The Hansen house is located across from the Cloverleaf Dairy at Danforth, about nine miles from Escanaba.

The Hansens and the Blixts were employed outside the house in pelting milk when the fire broke out. The aged Martin Hansen, infirm because of his years, was in the house with the twins.

Three other children of the Blixts were in school at the time of the fire.

Cause Not Determined
The cause of the fire was not immediately determined. Efforts of the father and grandfather to enter the house were successful, but they were unable to find the twins. The aged man was brought out but he was badly burned.

Ehnerd Hansen suffered burns on the face and hands in his rescue efforts.

The ambulance was summoned from Escanaba and took Ehnerd and his aged father to St. Francis hospital.

The fire was discovered by Ehnerd Hansen and he entered the house immediately in an effort to save the lives of the three persons trapped inside. His aged father was in one room and the twins in another. Efforts to reach the room in which the twins had been sleeping was unsuccessful, with the flames driving Hansen back.

Former Communist Spy, Miss Bentley, Becomes Catholic

New York, Nov. 16 (AP)—Elizabeth T. Bentley, self-styled "Soviet spy queen," has embraced the Catholic faith.

She was baptized Nov. 5 in a Washington, D. C., church by the Rt. Rev. Fulton J. Sheen, who also effected the return to Catholicism of Louis Budenz, former editor of the Communist Daily Worker.

Budenz and his wife, Margaret, acted as godparents at the baptismal rites.

Miss Bentley, star witness at recent House Un-American Activities committee hearings into Communism, attended the third Presbyterian church in Rochester, N. Y., when she lived there.

She had been reported missing last Saturday by attorneys who filed a $100,000 slander suit against her. They said a month's search failed to locate her.

The attorneys represented William W. Remington, former department of commerce official, who charges she slandered him by repeating on a television program statements she made before a congressional committee that he had been a Communist and furnished her with vital information while he was employed by the government and she was a Soviet courier.

While his attorneys were searching for her, however, Miss Bentley was in a Catholic retreat in Hawthorne, N. Y., and New York City taking religious instructions from Msgr. Sheen.

Housecleaning In GOP Due Early Next Year

By JACK BELL
Washington, Nov. 16 (AP)—The showdown on a change in the Republican National Committee's leadership seems likely today to be postponed until early next year.

Clarence Budington Kelland, Arizona National committeeman, has demanded that the Republicans fire what he called the "Albany group" from party control. Kelland's letters to National committeemen and state leaders found chairman Hugh D. Scott Jr. and other top GOP officials vacationing.

Hence there was no immediate reply to Kelland's suggestion that the Republicans clean house "from top to bottom." But committee aides said a meeting will be held, probably shortly after the first of the year, at which any member can air his views.

Kelland, who rode the "Victory Special" of Gov. Thomas E. Dewey through Arizona, came up yesterday with his criticism of what he called the "arrogant" campaign put on by the defeated presidential nominee.

"The Albany group provided the candidate with smug, shallow, insincere speeches," Kelland

Government Lenient On Draft Violators

Men Who Didn't Register
Get Another Chance

Philadelphia, Nov. 16 (AP)—Two youths who refused to register for the peacetime draft were granted leniency by U. S. District Judge J. Cullen Ganey after a government attorney contended the two were attempting to be martyrs.

Judge Ganey yesterday granted J. Newton Garver, 20, Buffalo, N. Y., a week to decide whether to "do something substantial toward the country's draft effort" or go to jail.

At the same time, the jurist released James S. Lovett, 23, Falsington, Pa., in custody of the American Friends Service committee (Quakers) for work in China.

U. S. Attorney Edward A. Kallick protested the decisions on the grounds that "we can't be too lenient when thousands—perhaps millions—of prospective draft registrants are watching the disposition of this case closely."

Garver, a student at Swarthmore college, pleaded no defense and told Judge Ganey he did not register for the draft because he preferred to "stay home with my wife" and "live in the ivy halls of Swarthmore."

Lovett, who also pleaded no defense, was given a suspended sentence of a year and a day and was placed on probation for two years.

Sheriff Hunting At Bellaire, Mich.; Prisoners Escape

Bellaire, Mich., Nov. 16 (AP)—State Police were searching today for two prisoners who escaped from the Antrim county jail while Sheriff Howard Tanner was on a deer hunting trip.

Deputy Mrs. Howard Tanner, who was left in charge, said she discovered the pair—Benjamin Hines 19, and Ed Harter, 33, both of Kalkaska, Mich.—missing yesterday morning.

She said the prisoners broke out of their cell sometime Sunday night and climbed to the ground on blankets which they had tied together.

Mrs. Tanner said the two men were serving 90-day sentences for resisting arrest.

More Help Wanted At Harper Hospital

Detroit, Nov. 16 (AP)—Harper hospital sought outside workers today to fill the jobs of more than 200 striking AFL service employees.

The strikers returned a hospital ultimatum to work Monday or lose their jobs. The hospital said the back-to-work movement brought about 50 strikers through the nine-day-old picket line.

The AFL Hospital Employees Union said only a handful of strikers returned.

wrote fellow committee members adding:

"It was a contemptuous campaign, contemptuous alike of our antagonists and our friends."

He suggested that the committee meet quickly and get about the business of tossing out the officials he said Dewey and his organization had "imposed" on the national committee.

As a twice-defeated candidate, Dewey's influence is likely to be at a low ebb in committee affairs. He has said he won't give up his titular leadership of the party. But he has announced he won't run again.

Any effort to remove Scott is likely to be accompanied by backstage jockeying between potential 1952 presidential nominees for a choice favorable to them.

In any such scramble, supporters of Harold E. Stassen could be expected to be found vying for position with backers of Senator Robert A. Taft of Ohio.

Buck Hunters Hope For Weather Break

Three Killed By Gunshot;
Several Wounded

By the Associated Press
A third hunter was killed by a rifle bullet today as Michigan's deer season moved into its second day.

The victims were Donald Johnson, 23, of Lansing, shot to death in Montmorency county, and Orville Houthoofd, 18, of Akron, Mich., killed in Oscoda County.

Over the first 24 hours one hunter's death from gunshot was reported.

Two hunters died of heart attacks and at least ten others were wounded.

Conservation department regional headquarters reported that the kill of deer was lower than last year in the Upper Peninsula and about normal in the northern half of the lower peninsula.

The weather was mild, temperatures ranging from 37 and 38 degrees. Side roads were muddy. In the Upper Peninsula, 204 arrests had been made and 152 arrests were made in the lower peninsula, mostly for the possession of loaded guns in cars.

Political Dynasty Changes In Canada

Ottawa, Nov. 16 (AP)—A new political dynasty took over today in Canada.

Louis S. St. Laurent, 66, replaced the veteran William L. Mackenzie King as Prime Minister. He was sworn in yesterday as the second French-Canadian chief executive in Canada's history.

King retired yesterday for reasons of health after serving as Prime Minister for a total of 21 years, a record tenure of office in the British Commonwealth.

HUNTING 50 YEARS

Ithaca, (P)—Joe Cowdrey, 81, and Ira Thompson, 83, veteran Gratiot county hunters since 1898, are in northern Michigan for their 50th consecutive year seeking their buck. The two men, brothers-in-law, recall when they first started hunting they were allowed to bag five deer.

Reporters Loaded For Truman Today President Gives First News Conference

Key West, Fla., Nov. 16 (AP)—President Truman said flatly today the United States will not resume four-power negotiations on Germany until Soviet Russia lifts its Berlin blockade.

At the same time, he told a news conference that he will review the entire international situation with Secretary of State Marshall and roving ECA administrator Harriman at the White House Nov. 22.

Mr. Truman made it clear that:

1. He has no plans for a meeting with Premier Stalin.

He said he will not leave Washington for such a conference, but that his invitation to Stalin to visit Washington still stands.

2. He has no plans to send an emissary to Moscow to talk with Stalin. He considered sending Chief Justice Vinson on such a mission during the closing days of the election campaign, but Marshall talked him out of it.

3. He is asking the bi-partisan commission on organization of the executive branch of the government to continue its work. The commission is headed by former President Herbert Hoover.

In announcing he was asking Mr. Hoover to continue the work, he said he hoped it could facilitate "effective and economical administration."

The President left no doubt that he wants Secretary of Marshall to continue in his post, saying he and the cabinet official are in perfect agreement on everything and they always have been.

Masher Assaults Traced In Killing Of Colorado Co-ed

Boulder, Colo., Nov. 16 (AP)—Already swamped with tips and leads in the rape-slaying of a co-ed, authorities today asked the help of Boulder women who have been molested in the past year.

Sheriff Arthur Everson asked them to report any incidents similar to that which led to the death of pretty Theresa Foster, 18-year-old University of Colorado co-ed a week ago. He said he thought many "masher" incidents were not reported because the victims feared the publicity.

Men were held for questioning at Ogden, Utah, and Canon City, Colo., one because of blood-stained clothing and the other because of blood found in an automobile trunk. Both claimed they were not here when Miss Foster was raped and strangled to death.

Because of the hunt for a blood-stained car, Boulder residents have become hesitant about washing their automobiles. Among the hundreds of tips investigated have been dozens which turned up innocent motorists cleaning their cars.

Conservation Crews Don Red for Safety

Lansing, Nov. 16 (AP)—This year's deer hunters may be surprised to find uniformed "Red Coats" in the woods this year.

They are not Royal Canadian Mounted Police, but conservation officers in their new look for the deer season.

As a safety measure, the officers' regular forest green jackets have been replaced with a bright red ones. They will be worn during this and successive deer seasons.

Relatives Gather To Get First Peek At British Prince

By RUSSELL LANDSTROM
London, Nov. 16 (AP)—All was reported well today with Princess Elizabeth and her new son as relatives gathered to peek at the two-day-old prince who may be Britain's next king.

Royal physicians have issued no bulletins since yesterday morning, but the very absence of further announcement was accepted as a sign that the condition of Elizabeth and her baby continues to be satisfactory.

Lost B-17 Sighted On Pacific Island

None Of 12 Men Aboard
Seriously Injured

Manila, Nov. 16 (AP)—The 13th air force announced today a flying fortress which had been missing on a flight from New Guinea to the Philippines had been located.

None of the 12 persons aboard was seriously hurt, the air force said.

The B-17 was sighted first by a Philippine Airlines commercial transport on the shore of Little Alibijaban Island in the Gulf of Ragay, the northeast arm of the Sibuyan Sea.

The island is just off the east coast of Bondoc Peninsula in southern Luzon and at the approximate location given by an S O S picked up earlier today by the SS Ben Macduh.

The plane which sighted the survivors was on a regular flight from Masbate to Manila. It reported the flying fortress had been ditched in 10 feet of water just off the island.

The air force dispatched a plane to San Andres landing field in Quezon Province to pick up the survivors and bring them to Manila.

The announcement said the B-17, which flew by the way of Wewak from New Guinea, had encountered high winds and adverse weather and apparently ran out of fuel.

Train Kills Lansing Couple Near Toledo

Toledo, Ohio, Nov. 16 (AP)—A couple tentatively identified as Lansing, Mich., residents were killed in a grade crossing crash here last night.

A Pennsylvania railroad passenger train sliced their car in two.

State highway patrolman said the victims were believed to be Charles Keekbush and his wife, Collette, 3281 S. Cedar Road, Lansing.

Both bodies were crushed beyond immediate identification. On the man's body were found letters addressed to Charles Keekbush at the Lansing address. A check of the automobile license registration showed it was issued to Mrs. Collette Keekbush.

night to see the princess. Earlier it was declared both the mother and child were in satisfactory condition. Palace sources said no additional bulletins will be issued until some time today.

The princess was permitted to have her baby with her for a short while yesterday.

There was no indication how soon she would be up. Elizabeth always has enjoyed exceptionally good health and some sources believe her stay in bed will not be prolonged.

Britons, meantime, reluctantly wound up the big day's celebration—of firing guns, blowing whistles, ringing bells, flying flags, parading and drinking toasts.

In London merry makers capered well into the cold, rainy night. Crowds pressed 10-deep against the huge railings of the palace yelling "We Want Philip."

When Philip did not appear, they contented themselves with chanting lullabies.

As the night wore on harried police told the crowds they might as well go home because nothing was going to happen. Most of the gathering dug in more firmly than ever.

Armistice Ordered For Palestine Foes

Permanent Peace Sought
For Arabs And Jews

Paris, Nov. 16 (AP)—The United Nations Security Council ordered Arabs and Jews today to establish an immediate armistice in Palestine.

The council's order said an armistice would "facilitate the transition from the present truce to a permanent peace in Palestine."

The council voted on the resolution in sections. Russia and the Soviet Ukraine abstained.

Previously, the council rejected a Russian proposal calling for the immediate establishment of a formal peace.

The resolution adopted was submitted by Canada, with the support of Belgium and France. The council rejected a Syrian attempt to amend the resolution to widen a Negev withdrawal order to include the Galilee front in northern Palestine. Only Syria, China and Belgium supported the amendment. The remaining eight nations abstained.

The United States, Belgium, Colombia, Britain, Argentina, France, Canada and China supported the resolution's original text after the Syrian amendment failed.

BUCK OGLES HUNTERS

Ortonagon (P)—While hundreds of visiting deer hunters watched in frustration, an eight-point buck strolled slowly through the center of this village. The big animal walked up to the Alk Hotel, stared at goggle-eyed hunters, and walked back into the woods. It was two days before the opening of the deer season.

Great Lakes Boats Break Record For Iron Ore Shipping

Cleveland (AP)—Every cargo of iron ore loaded into a Great Lakes freighter at Upper Lakes docks since Wednesday has set a new season record for a peacetime year.

On that date, the 1947 mark of 77,898,087 gross tons was passed and the Great Lakes fleet set its sights on the 80,000,000 gross ton mark never achieved before except in time of war.

Prolonged and heavy fog in the St. Marys river and the normal seasonal slow-down in ore loading were reflected in decreased tonnage in October, as compared with September. However, cumulative tonnage reports for the 1948 season as of Nov. 1 showed a movement of 75,107,000 gross tons of iron ore, 47,133,794 net tons of coal and 138,013,942 net tons of ore, coal and grain combined.

This last figure is the third farthest in history as of Nov. 1 and was exceeded only during World War II. The coal figure has been exceeded only once, in 1944.

With the 1947 ore record already surpassed and a few weeks of operation still in prospect before winter closes in, the steel industry is given assurance of adequate stock piles of ore to carry through the winter until first lake shipments come down in the spring of 1949.

Ocean Queens Held Up By Dock Strike

New York, Nov. 16 (AP)—The queens of the American and British passenger fleets were dock-bound today as a strike blockade of east shipping grew tighter.

Longshoremen sealed off Canadian ports from use as havens for ships which normally would dock at New York or other harbors in the strike area.

The United States Lines' S. S. America, pride of the U. S. Merchant Marine, was held in port here instead of sailing today for Europe. Hundreds of prospective passengers were stranded in hotels.

Tomorrow's scheduled sailing of the Cunard White Star Liner Queen Elizabeth from Southampton was cancelled. The world's biggest passenger ship, booked with 2,000 persons bound for New York, was to have docked at Halifax, Nova Scotia.

Rep. Thomas Faces Trial Jan. 10 For Padding Payrolls

Washington, Nov. 16 (AP)—Barring delays or a shift to another city, Rep. J. Parnell Thomas will go on trial here January 10 on charges that he conspired to pad his office payrolls.

The New Jersey lawmaker entered a formal plea of innocent to the indictment at a surprise arraignment late yesterday. He had been scheduled to appear today.

Thomas was released on $1,000 bond.

Judge Richmond B. Keech, who received Thomas' plea, fixed the trial date and set November 29 as the deadline for preliminary motions—such as a possible one to transfer the trial away from Washington.

Thomas has been the subject of hot controversy as chairman of the House Un-American Activities committee, a post he will lose when the Democrats return to control of Congress January 3. The New Jersey Republican was re-elected to his seventh term in the November 2 election.

He was indicted by a federal grand jury here six days later on charges of fraud and conspiracy growing out of alleged salary "kick-backs" from his office employees.

Motor Freight Rate Increase Suspended By Michigan P.S.C.

Lansing, Nov. 16 (AP)—The Michigan Public Service commission today announced it has suspended a proposed 12 per cent motor freight increase but had told the petitioners it would permit a 10 per cent increase.

The 10 per cent increase, which must be petitioned for separately, may not become effective before Nov. 22, however, the commission order stipulated.

Commission chairman Stuart B. White said the 10 per cent increase would be enough to ease the distress of the truckers and would be acceptable to shippers who objected to the 12 per cent increase.

The increase was petitioned for by members of the Michigan Intra-State Tariff bureau and some other trucking companies.

White said that the commission had decided not to grant the 12 per cent increase until a tariff study committee makes its report in 30 days.

Harriman May Get Potent Post Under Truman's New Term

BY STERLING F. GREEN

Washington, Nov. 16 (AP)—Speculation mounted today that W. Averell Harriman, the Marshall Plan ambassador-at-large, may be dealt a more potent hand in President Truman's new term.

Lower echelons of the economic cooperation administration buzzed with reports that Harriman, a multi-millionaire and staunch Democratic party supporter, might:

1. Replace Republican Paul G. Hoffman as ECA administrator. Harriman, as ECA's special representative in Europe, now is No. 2 man in the recovery agency.
2. Or as rumored previously, become Secretary of State and when George C. Marshall steps down as he has indicated he wishes to do.

R. Sutherland said the Short Way Lines and the Central Greyhound Lines, which had employed Mrs. Rea, had written a letter informing the court that the couple made restitution.

Mrs. Rea was charged with embezzlement and her husband with larceny by conversion last spring after the companies reported discovering shortages in their local accounts.

es to do. The state department, with Mr. Truman's backing, could make its influence felt in the otherwise independent Marshall Plan operations.

Harriman, Washington - bound from his Paris ECA headquarters, was due to arrive today.

One subordinate official was offering to bet that by the end of January that is, after Mr. Truman's inauguration - Harriman "will be running ECA, in name or in fact."

Working against that theory, however, is an apparently widespread feeling on Capitol Hill that the European Recovery effort has been operating satisfactorily under Hoffman's leadership.

Search Abandoned For B-29 Missing On Trip To Guam

Tokyo, Nov. 16 (AP)—The Far East air force announced today it had abandoned search for a B-29 superfortress which has been missing since Nov. 6 with 12 men aboard.

The plane was enroute from Okinawa to Guam when it disappeared. Army and Navy searchers found no trace of the plane or its occupants.

One bit of upholstery and three life rafts were picked up at sea. The upholstery appeared to have been in an explosion—a possible clue to the fate of the plane.

Those aboard the plane included Capt. Kenneth Jones, pilot, son of Mrs. Anne Jones, 14654 Turner

Earl Therriault's Mother Is Stricken

Mrs. Fred Therriault of 403 Parmenter street, Menominee, who has been ill for several months, died yesterday in her home. She is the mother of Earl Therriault of 1111 Ninth avenue south, Escanaba. Mr. and Mrs. Earl Therriault are now at Menominee, returning there from Chicago where they had been visiting. The body of Mrs. Therriault is at the Lemieux funeral home in Menominee.

dred Hansen. She and her husband lived in the family home, a two-story frame structure.

The twins, Ronald Martin and Bonnie Marie, were born June 28, 1948, at St. Francis hospital in Escanaba.

The Escanaba fire department dispatched a truck to the scene of the fire, but the home was completely destroyed despite their efforts and that of volunteers.

Two Men Toss Acid In Face Of Widow Who Claims $92,800

Philadelphia, Nov. 16 (AP)—Police today were seeking two men they said threw acid in the face of a 42-year-old widow who is one of the claimants for a $92,000 cache found in a south Philadelphia cellar.

Mrs. Anna Theresa Hillop told police yesterday two men accosted her in the basement of a north Philadelphia apartment house. She could give no reason for the attack, police said.

The $92,800 was found on March 15, 1947, by Benjamin Lieberman, a milk company bookkeeper, in the basement of his home.

Mrs. Hillop based her claim on the assertion that the money was hidden in the cellar by her husband, Anthony J. Hillop, three days before he was found shot to death on June 8, 1932.

The courts have ruled the money should revert to the commonwealth through escheat. An appeal on that ruling is pending before the Pennsylvania Supreme Court.

Victory At Suchow Claimed By Chiang As Regime Totters

the northeastward."

The Kuomintang Daily News, quoting a Chinese Air Force source, said reconnaissance planes had spotted a general Communist withdrawal northward from the Suchow front.

Neutral observers, however, continued to eye the reports with considerable reserve and plans went ahead for evacuation of American civilians and some others.

More than 100 British and other foreigners are expected to join Americans this weekend when the second evacuation ship leaves Nanking.

The government's return to the regular rationing of rice has considerably eased the food problem. U. S. economic aid director Roger Lapham arrived in Nanking today with former ambassador William C. Bullitt, who is checking the Chinese situation for Congress. They lunched with U. S. Ambassador J. Leighton Stuart before arranging for a meeting with President Chiang Kai-shek.

Acting under martial law, Nanking's headquarters garrison tightened its grip on the capital's activities. In a wave of arrests, purportedly against subversive elements, 82 persons were jailed last night, including six Chinese newspaper reporters and editors.

U. S. Embassy dependents are being evacuated immediately. The embassy said the majority would go to Manila to await clarification of the Chinese situation.

Capital May Move
Jacques Meyier, French ambassadore and dean of the diplomatic corps, called a meeting of the heads of all missions in Nanking to discuss measures for the safety of diplomatic personnel and the possibility of china's moving its capital.

The diplomatic group is considering making a formal request to the Chinese government as to future plans. The meeting was the first of the diplomatic corps since the emergency arose.

Rival claims beclouded what was happening at Suchow, the guardian base 200 miles north of Nanking.

The Communist raido asserted Red troops had "completely isolated" Suchow and that they had taken Suhsien, 50 miles south. The government's version was that it still held Suhsien and, in fact, the Communists were withdrawing from the northern Suchow front.

Pro-government sources were silent on the outcome of fighting Gen. Huang Po-tao's mechanized on the east, west and south sides of the battle. Shanghai dispatches reported continued efforts by army to break through Red lines to the isolated Seventh Army corps at Nienchuang, 35 miles east of Suchow. Shanghai newspapers yesterday reported Gen. Huang had turned the Red tide, but today they referred to his "counterattacks."

Reds Control Province

The Communist campaigns in the Jehol and Hopeh provinces gave evidence of a coordinated drive to seize the demanding government held areas of North China, including the prize cities of Peiping and Tientsin.

Occupation of Chengteh, Jehol capital 110 miles northeast of Peiping, gave the Reds control of all the province, and Communists troops mounted a drive against Paoting, Hopeh province capital 90 miles southwest of Peiping. Three U. S. Navy landing ships arrived at Tientsin, 85 miles southeast of Peiping, to carry evacuees to Tsingtao, U. S. Naval base, for homeward passage from there and from Shanghai. The American military advisory group in Nanking resumed its emergency airlift to move dependents to transport ships at Shanghai.

Better Sanitation

ESCANABA'S NEW restaurant sanitation ordinance is working out very satisfactorily, according to the report issued last week by William Hendrickson, health department sanitarian.

Hendrickson revealed that the average rating for all local establishments early this year was 79.7 per cent. The average rating following the most recent inspections was 91 per cent. The increase represents sanitation improvements made within the past several months, convincing proof that the ordinance which provides not only for inspection but also rating of the individual restaurants is working out very well.

In the survey made early this year only four restaurants earned a Class A rating. Today 26 of the 38 food establishments in the city have earned Class A rating, 11 in Class B and only one is rated Class C.

Improvements have resulted in virtually all phases of health sanitation—better equipment, including dishwashing facilities, better ventilation, plumbing and refrigeration, improved sanitation practices, such as better care of garbage, eradication of mice and rats and a higher level of cleanliness in preparing and serving food.

When the new health ordinance was first proposed, there were some fears that it would work a hardship on many operators. In practice these fears have been found to be unfounded. The increased level of sanitation has benefited the food industry, just as it has benefited the general public.

The Straits Bottleneck

THE 14 MILES of parked cars below the Straits of Mackinac last weekend brings to mind one of the campaign pledges of Gov. Elmer Mennen Williams, better transportation service between the two peninsulas of Michigan. We hope that Mr. Williams will not brush this off as just another campaign promise when he takes the reins of state government January 1.

Despite the boast of some of those who argue for the status quo in ferry transportation that the travelers who use the state ferry service like the boat ride, the fact still remains that ferry service is inadequate to meet the expansion in travel between the two peninsulas of Michigan.

Although the traffic problem at the straits is the responsibility of the state highway commission, rather than the governor, the chief executive of the state can be a powerful influence in solving the problem.

Long delays at the straits certainly is a barrier to expansion of the tourist industry of the Upper Peninsula. Also, the bottleneck stifles the development of normal social and trade relationships between the two peninsulas of the state.

Improvement in this situation can come about either by the construction of a bridge or by better ferry service, utilizing the shorter ferry route that the St. Ignace causeway would make possible.

16c For The Scouts

IF A BOY SCOUT called at your house and begged you to contribute to the Scout Fund so that the splendid work of this great organization in Delta county could be continued, would you reach into your purse and hand him a nickel or a dime or perhaps a quarter?

Of course not. Realizing the fine contribution that the Boy Scouts are making in our communities towards better citizenship and recognizing the urgent need for continuation of a program that is doing something constructive about the juvenile delinquency problem, you would give at least a dollar and probably more.

And yet Delta county citizens, or at least a number of them, are giving only dimes and nickels to the Boy Scouts, the Girl Scouts, the Campfire Girls, the Cod Liver Oil Fund, the Salvation Army and the Michigan Children's Aid. These are the organizations that are participating in the Delta County Community Chest, the annual solicitation drive for which is now under way. And that is why the Community Chest faces the unhappy prospects of not reaching its goal.

Many subscribers are donating only a dollar to the Community Chest. The dollar contribution, divided six ways, means only 16 2/3c for each organization for the entire year.

Unless the drive suddenly perks up and the receipts swell much faster than now appears likely, the Community Chest will fall far short of reaching its quota. The result will be financial disaster for the participating agencies and a black eye for the people of Delta county.

Can we honestly afford to let these agencies die?

Change Forecast In Soviet Policy

BY MARQUIS CHILDS

Washington. — The evidence grows that shift in Russian foreign policy is taking place. While in all probability it is no more than a change of strategy, it is, nevertheless, important.

Stalin's statement about peace made during the election campaign in this country, Molotov's remark that the Republican defeat was a defeat for those who wanted war, and the way in which Soviet newspapers grabbed an unfounded rumor that President Truman might go to Moscow for a meeting all add up to a change. From the faithful here and abroad, we are getting prompt echoes of the new line.

Behind the new emphasis, there may be the belated realization that Soviet tactics in the recent past have contributed largely to America's preparation for a possible war. The draft and the other new defense measures hardly would have been passed by Congress if it had not been for Moscow's persistent belligerence expressed in every form of attack and denunciation.

RUSSIA ERRED

The bosses in the Kremlin have made one crashing blunder after another if their real objective was to keep this country disarmed and indifferent. Consider what would have happened if Molotov had accepted the invitation to participate in the Marshall Plan when he came to Paris in the summer of 1947 with his 132 experts. Russia and her satellites could have sabotaged the concept from the inside.

The blockade of Berlin was intended to force the Western Allies out of that outpost with shame and humiliation before the world. That move disastrously backfired when the miracle of the airlift proved to Europe the astonishing power of the U. S. Air Force.

So, "Peace, it's wonderful," is the new line. One of the loudest echoes has come from the incredible Johannes Steel, who once ran for Congress on the American Labor party ticket with the backing of Henry Wallace, visited the satellite countries some time ago. In his "Report on World Affairs," a monthly news letter, he carried propaganda interviews with all the Cominform puppets and even—this was before the break—with Marshall Tito of Yugoslavia.

Now Steel says, "There will be no war in 1949." He goes further than that:

"Notwithstanding all warmongering, we state categorically that there will be no war between the United States and the Soviet Union for the rest of 1948 nor in 1949; and that there is not one chance in 25 that there will be war in 1950."

WAITING FOR OPPORTUNITY

Steel attributes this partly to America's failure to gain support before the United Nations for the charge that the Berlin blockade represents a threat to peace. He also says that American "capitalists," seeing the inroads of Communism after World War II, have become fearful of what might happen after another global conflict.

Even though the new emphasis should develop into a campaign for peace, it is not likely that the constant Soviet harassment in Berlin and elsewhere would cease. And certainly the Kremlin bosses will be ever ready to exploit U. S. mistakes.

One of those mistakes, in my opinion, is the decision to turn Ruhr industry back to German ownership. While protests may be damped down by the harsh necessities of the moment, this goes against the view of Western Europe and most opinion in England.

It is a powerful propaganda weapon handed to the Russians. Many people in this country are coming to feel increasingly that controls in Germany are being put back in the hands of those who will use them once more for aggression and war.

Genuine peace overtures from Russia should not be rebuffed. A meeting of the council of foreign ministers should be possible in spite of the hair-splitting that has gone on before the U. N. in Paris.

The position of the United States in Paris is not too strong. Our delegation is vulnerable on several points in the Berlin dispute. The nations not directly involved seem inclined to call down a plague on both the major contenders as the wearisome wrangle goes on.

This may be the moment for a broad advance toward at least a temporary peace.

a vulgarism. Better say: He is nowhere to be found.

Wrong: "I couldn't find it any place."

Right: I couldn't find it anywhere.

Wrong: "We looked every place for it."

Right: We looked everywhere for it.

Wrong: "He lives some place in Ohio."

Right: He lives somewhere in Ohio.

The impropriety of the "wrong" examples is that "place" is a noun and cannot act as an adverb. On the other hand, anywhere, everywhere, nowhere, and somewhere are adverbs and properly modify the verbs have, find, looked, lives.

Slop o' the tongue: "I did not suspicion that he was guilty." No; suspicion is a noun, not a verb. Right: I did not suspect that he was guilty.

Wrong: "I suspicioned that he took the money." Right: I suspected (thought, feared, believed) that he took the money.

Wrong: "I kept suspicioning it would happen." No, decidedly. There is no such word as suspicioning. Better say: I kept expecting it to happen. Or: "I kept thinking it would happen."

Suspicion, remember, is a noun. Correct: I had a suspicion of his guilt. His actions aroused my suspicion. I had not the least suspicion that they were married.

Do you think it is wrong to say GRAD-100-toe, PIK-cher, etc? Mr. Colby's leaflet, C-18, explains why these pronunciations are correct. For a copy, send 5c in coin, and a stamped, self-addressed envelope to him, care of this paper, P. O. Box 99, Station G, New York 19, N. Y.

Comes Now the Pay-Off

Good Evening

By Clint Dunathan

WAITING—Hunters' cars were lined up for 14 miles on the south side of the Straits of Mackinac, waiting an opportunity to board a state ferry and get to the Upper Peninsula. This is not the first time this has happened, but it is the first time that state police have been supplied with walkie-talkies so they could communicate with each other as they worked along that 14-mile line trying to speed up traffic.

There is very little the state police can do to speed up traffic across the Straits. They can keep the line moving up to the Mackinac City docks as fast as possible and prevent "jumpers" from getting out of line and taking unfair advantage of others by driving ahead. The bottleneck, however, is the state ferries and their comparative slowness in getting back and forth across the Straits. Only the state highway department can do something about that.

COMPARISONS — The state highway department at the height of the hunting season rush announced that traffic was expected to be greater than last year. It also pointed out that last year it was 50 per cent greater than in 1941, when cars were lined up from 13 to 15 miles; and that the department now has two less ferries than it did in 1941.

But what the highway department does not report is that back in 1941 the highway department constructed a mile-long causeway on the north side of the Straits designed to reduce the travel distance of the ferries and speed up the crossing. The causeway has not been completed with dock facilities at its end and it is not being used.

OPPOSED—The present state highway commissioner, Charles M. Ziegler, has opposed use of the causeway. He has reported that it is washing away, that high winds make its use impracticable, that its construction was a waste of state funds.

Upper Peninsula advocates of better ferry service at the Straits (together with the engineers who designed and built the causeway) declare the causeway is not washing away, that it can be used through most of the year, and that its construction was a wise step toward speeding up ferry service by cutting down the distance the ferries must travel between the Lower and Upper Peninsulas.

PROPOSAL — It is my suggestion to the state highway department, in line with its own assertion that the causeway is valueless to the state, that the state offer the causeway for sale to private interests.

The state highway department should do this as soon as possible just to see whether some shipping firm might not be interested in establishing an auto ferry service to augment the inadequate service offered by the state.

The department could, at small cost, advertise for bids for the sale of the causeway to the highest bidder.

There should be no restrictions in this sale—no clauses requiring its use for this or that or any other purpose.

10 Years Ago

Munising—Mr. and Mrs. Carl Strand are the parents of a daughter, Judith Ann, born in Munising hospital Nov. 4.

Manistique—The search for William Magnuson, 68, River road farmer who has been missing since Nov. 6 is being continued without success. About 65 CCC men, state police and civilian volunteers are searching for the man.

Gladstone—Conan E. Fisher has been awarded an Adviser's honor key by the Grand Council of the Order of DeMolay for his work in Delta county.

Escanaba—Mr. and Mrs. Donald Norby are the parents of a daughter born Nov. 15 at St. Francis hospital.

20 Years Ago

Carney—A dance hall, barber shop, private garage and two automobiles were destroyed by fire here yesterday by a blaze which threatened the entire village. Loss is estimated at $9000. The fire originated in the two-story building maintained as a barber shop by John Logan.

Manistique—Capt. Daniel C. Hamill has called for a special meeting of the Manistique W. O. W. band Sunday.

Gladstone—Miss Iva Blodgett has returned from Tacoma, Wash., where she has spent the past year and a half.

For if the state highway department sincerely believes the causeway is valueless, any amount it receives from any purchaser will reclaim at least a part of the approximately $700,000 in state money expended on its construction.

Perhaps the purchaser would establish a ferry service that would relieve some of the congestion at the Straits. It is common sense for the highway department to dispose of unused and unwanted property. Let it offer the causeway for sale to see whether anyone else wants it.

PRACTICAL—The Delta county road commission recently disposed of unwanted and unused items by public sale.

Each year the state conservation department conducts a sale of lands it does not want or need for public use.

Every municipality in the state sells (at least for scrap) equipment that has outlived its usefulness.

The state highway department has called the causeway a "white elephant." It should offer that causeway for sale since it considers it useless for state purposes.

TO A HEAD—Perhaps the state highway department is afraid to publicly advertise the causeway for sale to the highest bidder.

It knows the people of Michigan are watching and waiting to see what the department will do toward improving the state ferry service.

Perhaps the department knows that if a private firm obtained the causeway and established a ferry service, thousands of motorists would use it during rush periods rather than wait six or more hours for a state boat.

The time is at hand when the department must decide whether it will use the causeway or sell it, so that someone else might try to improve ferry service at the Straits. Each year of delay only further depreciates the value of the causeway. It should be offered for sale at once.

New York. (P)—His royal highness in diapers, the Prince of Edinburgh, was born into a dying industry.

It is the business of being a king. And for the three-day-old heir—presumptive to the British throne—he's next in line after his mama.

The kid will probably grow up to wish secretly that he could drop that "Prince of Edinburgh" monicker and list himself in the London phone book as "P. E. Edinburgh, Public Relations Consultant."

For—either as prince or king—about the only real job he will have is to act as salesman, major domo and press agent for the British Empire.

Suppose after he is on the hot seat—the throne—he wants to throw a cocktail party for his social equals. Who'll he invite? Today there are barely enough kings to make three decks of cards—not counting the jokers thrown out of their palaces in recent years.

And presidents now pack more muscle than kings. One of the infant prince of Edinburgh's distant relatives was a famous president — George Washington. But the little prince can't aspire to that office. He was born in the wrong place for it.

But what a life he has to look forward to! He can't sneak off to the ole swimmin' hole with the boys from the other side of the railroad track. He can't chalk naughty words on fences, because palaces don't have fences. They gave him a 41-gun salute at birth but they won't ever let him play with firecrackers. Certainly not on the 4th of July anyway.

He will be surrounded by equestrians, foreign language tutors, dancing masters—all the red tape of royalty.

Later as king—if he survives his rule-ridden childhood—his chief duty each morning will be to call up the Prime Minister and say:

"Whom do I greet today, boss, and what uniform do I wear? Or have you written something you want me to read to Parliament?"

And the best answer he can hope for is:

"Nothing on the docket, Kingie. Why don't you take the day off, and catch up on your stamp collection?"

The young prince stands to inherit a shrinking empire. With the Irish, taking another walk and Palestine, Burma and India on their own, the king of England has less and less to protect.

But if his job appears to have a dimming future, it can also be shown it never was a particularly healthy profession in the past.

Of the 59 men and women who have ruled England since 827 — leaving out those two upstart Cromwells—only six reached the Biblical life span of 70 years. And only 12 even managed to achieve the age at which the American government naps a Social Security pension—65.

The job of being king isn't even as good as a post on the supreme court, where you can hold on as long as you earn a good conduct medal.

So it's hard to know whether to send the bonny new prince of Edinburgh congratulations or condolences.

For today "Edie" is the best title on earth. It gives a man a chance to make a name and a fame for himself such as no king can enjoy.

The Washington Merry-Go-Round

BY DREW PEARSON

Washington—President Truman is doing some real soul-searching about the man who is to be his new Secretary of State. White House intimates say he has two things in mind:

1. The most important issue facing the entire country is peace, and Truman has got to find the No. 1 man in the country to solve it.

2. He doesn't want to make the mistake Franklin Roosevelt did of not building up new blood for the presidency. Therefore, if the man he picks as Secretary of State is able to iron out the tangled state of the world, he would be Truman's logical successor in 1952.

The man tops on Truman's list—if he were not chief justice of the United States—is his old friend, Fred Vinson. Once before, Vinson was asked to step down from an important judicial post—the court of appeals—to take over the thankless job of economic stabilizer. And unquestionably, if Truman asked him to he would step down again.

However, rather than ask Vinson to make this sacrifice, the president is considering Justice William O. Douglas, 48 years old, with a great record on the securities and exchange commission, and a man whom FDR himself recommended side-by-side with Truman as presidential timber.

So keep an eye on Bill Douglas as the next Secretary of State.

—T-H LAW COMES SECOND—The Fair Standards Labor Act—not the Taft-Hartley Law—will get first attention from the new Democratic Congress, according to Sen. Elbert Thomas of Utah who will succeed Sen. Robert Taft as chairman of the Senate Labor committee.

The scholarly Mormon ex-missionary points out that the 80th Congress not only passed the Taft-Hartley law but crippled the Fair Labor Standards act, which affects 20,000,000 unorganized workers. He believes these 20,000,000 need legislative help ahead of the 15,000,000 organized workers who oppose the Taft-Hartley law.

Thomas is determined, however, that there will be no undue delay in tackling the Taft-Hartley law. But noting reports that labor secretary Maurice Tobin is preparing to rewrite the labor laws, Thomas emphasized that his committee, not the labor department, will do the rewriting.

Note—Senator Thomas has a consistent, pro-labor voting record in the Senate.

—SENATOR JENNER COOLS OFF—Humbled by Democratic victory, G. O. P. Senators, once hell-bent on probing senatorial elections from Tennessee to Texas, pulled in their horns last week and spoke loftily of "nonpartisan investigations."

A few days earlier, fire-breathing G. O. P. chairman Bill Jenner of Indiana was screaming fraud against certain Democratic candidates, and his investigators, one of them the law partner of Ku Klux Klan member Bob Lyons, had gone on a rampage in Oklahoma and Texas.

It was a much subdued Senator Jenner, however, who reviewed these same cases at a closed-door session of the elections subcommittee. It wouldn't be necessary to hold hearings after all, said the gentleman from Indiana, but would turn complete reports over to the Democrats who inherit the committee.

Sen. Francis Myers of Pennsylvania, only Democrat present, asked why the Democrats hadn't been consulted before the Oklahoma and Texas investigations were launched. Jenner ducked the question but sputtered back that "no political motives whatsoever" had influenced the decision.

"Then why," asked Myers, "were reports released to the press just before the election?"

"Oh," fumbled Jenner, "the newspapers were piling up on us."

Myers also demanded an explanation from the committee's chief counsel, Nelson Deranian, who had been quoted in the press that same day as planning to rush the investigations in order to finish before the Democrats came into control. Deranian was put in this key committee spot by Bob Lyons of KKK and chain-store fame, the man who engineered Jenner's election to the Senate.

Deranian had no adequate explanation for the newspaper stories, but he did give the committee a verbal report on each case. From the Oklahoma file, Deranian pulled out affidavits charging that senator-elect Bob Kerr had spent more than the legal limit in his campaign.

Myers asked whether the committee had inquired into the law or consulted the attorney-general for an opinion. He pointed out that Kerr might not be responsible for expenditures which he knew nothing about.

Deranian admitted the committee had not explored the law.

From Texas, the committee also had affidavits charging election irregularities against senator-elect Lyndon Johnson, but similar complaints had been received against Johnson's opponents. Elsewhere, the committee had not even received formal affidavits to back up the complaints against senators-elect Clinton Anderson in New Mexico and Estes Kefauver in Tennessee.

The file was also opened on Sen. Harley Kilgore of West Virginia, whose election has been under investigation for two long years. It showed irregularities on both sides in the backwoods districts of West Virginia.

Note—What Republicans are worried about is that the Democrats will really dig into the Michigan election returns of their colleague Sen. Homer Ferguson.

Little worries won't hurt anybody, says a college professor. He's never heard them cry at night.

The world is full of a lot of people who can lead the way—but where to?

There's nothing gained when you bury the hatchet but keep the hammer out.

New Civil Defense Program Blueprints Protection At Home

Washington (AP)—The civil defense planning office has presented a minutely detailed blueprint for what it called the "missing link" in national defense—a system of protection for the population at home if any enemy attack comes.

The proposed program for a permanent system of civil defense is the product of a nine-month study by a group of 43 civilians, representative of various segments of national life, assisted by military advisers. The planning group, headed by Russell J. Hopley of Omaha, was created by order of defense secretary Forrestal.

Weighing heavily in the report is the possibility that United States cities, which since the war of 1812 never have been beset by a foreign military power, might be subjected to atomic war or other new weapons.

Millions Involved

The general proposals of the planning group are these:

1. A national office of civil defense, with a staff of perhaps no more than 200 persons, to furnish guidance for states and municipalities and to help train civil defense workers. Emphasis would be on creation of nucleus structures, capable of quick expansion in event of war. The estimate is that in wartime as high as 15,000,000 persons might be involved in civil defense throughout the states, cities and federal government.

2. Mutual assistance systems under which one city or group of cities would aid another city if the burden of civilian defense became too great. Mobile units which could be shifted quickly to stricken areas are recommended.

3. Maximum use of volunteers and of existing agencies, such as police departments.

4. "Well organized and trained units in communities throughout the United States, its territories and possessions, prepared and equipped to meet the problems of enemy attack, and to be ready against any weapon that an enemy may use."

5. "Intensive planning to meet the particular hazards of atomic or other modern weapons of warfare."

6. A peacetime organization which could be used in natural disasters as well as in war.

7. The two "most appropriate places" for the federal civil defense office would be under either the president or the secretary of defense. The latter might be "preferable" because of constant coordination with the national defense establishment.

The planning group submitted two suggested legislative forms: one a bill setting up the organization for the federal government; the other a model bill for states which they might use as a general pattern.

Report Is Frank

In issuing the report, the planning group sought to steer a cautious course which would tell the people the facts of life and death in the age of atomic warfare the danger is passed—and the civil defense would know the areas. It would tell them how to dispose of contaminated clothing, to be careful what they touch and eat and to take other preventive measures. If they were ill from radiation of an A-bomb burst, it would furnish blood to restore their health. And it would move about in stricken areas restoring calm, reassuring the frightened, removing the ill or the homeless."

Bomb Shelters Out

The planners take a dim view of the protective effects of bomb shelters against A-bombs.

"Experience abroad in World War II, even prior to the advent of the atomic bomb, indicated it was not practicable considering costs, materials and manpower involved, to provide shelters that would give effective protection from all kinds of bombing, particularly if direct hits of large bombs were to be considered," they said.

The report spells out details of how civilian defense would work. It recommends the organization of evacuation systems, using all available forms of transportation and involving a listing of all vehicles in a raid warden's block. It proposes a listing of the young, the old or the ill who would have priority on evacuation. It discusses the problems of mass feeding and shelter for thousands who might be forced to flee a city.

The possibility of panic and methods to prevent it are considered.

"There are few factors which can exert more influence on the fate of a nation at war than the mental attitudes of its people," said the report. "Wide-scale apathy, mental depression, hysteria or panic, on the part of its civilians, can defeat its military forces. Neglect of these factors is an open bid for disaster.

"In order to avoid possible adverse psychological effects, the mental hygiene section (of the Civil Defense Office) should review bulletins, literature and plans of other sections and divisions of the Civil Defense Organization."

"Plans should be initiated during peacetime for the wartime care of mental casualties. Undoubtedly there will be many."

The report uses previously published figures to measure out the effects of atomic attack on a large city, based on studies made of the attacks on Hiroshima and Nagasaki. The estimate is 100,000 casualties, of which 40,000 would die instantly in the blast or within the first week from injuries and radiation. Death by radiation of neutrons from an air-burst bomb would come to all persons within 1,000 yards, with radiation hazard extending in diminishing degree to 3,000 yards.

But, says the report, injuries caused by exposure to residual radio-activity (deposited by fission particles of a bomb burst under water) "can very often be either prevented or mitigated through detection and avoidance of those hazards."

The report also takes into account the possibility that gas, not used in World War II, might be a weapon of attack on populations in another war.

"War gases, if used in enemy attack, could mean agonizing suffering and death to entire populations. In preparing its civil defenses this nation must include every possible means of protecting against such a possibility. This field presents complex problems because of the variety and deadliness of the chemicals which might be used, the speed with which they would take effect on people, the hazardous contamination of areas, buildings and objects."

But, it adds, "a population well trained and well informed on anti-chemical measures will largely nullify the effectiveness of enemy war gas attacks."

Without going into any explanation, the report contains this cryptic reference:

"There are other known unconventional weapons of modern warfare (beside the atomic bomb and gas), and the future will undoubtedly see still others developed. They have been and will continue to be studied since they will create special problems of defense."

while at the same time seeking to avoid a frightening picture. But the report is frank about what could be expected.

"If attack should come," it says, "it might be by bomber squadrons dropping atomic bombs, incendiaries or gas bombs, or super-explosives, on one or a score of our major centers. It might come via guided missiles from distant points, or from submarines off the American shores. Or it might come from within the borders of the United States, through saboteurs and fifth columnists."

"However it came, it could mean devastation and death at many points on such a scale that the tasks of rescue and restoration would be far beyond the present capabilities of the people and the communities attack."

"It is sometimes stated that there is no defense against the atomic bomb, or against other modern weapons which might be used. x x x when and if an American city is attacked, civil defense must be ready. x x x

Driver-Training Car At Trenary

Trenary—Trenary high school has received a new automobile for its driver training course which will be taught by Francis Dishnow, manual arts instructor, who attended training school at L'Anse last year.

Class work now in progress will be followed by driving training on the road. The dual controls on the car make it possible for the instructor, who is in the car at all times with the student, to supervise each step in training.

L. Russell of the Marquette Post, Michigan State Police, visited the school and addressed an assembly on the importance of highway safety. He reported a decrease in teen age accident rate, due largely to the driver training program in Michigan schools.

Best Black Dress
Is Thrifty Buy

By ALICIA HART

The woman who in spite of the season's temptations to wear colored dresses clings to beloved blacks probably knows what she is about.

She does, if she chooses the best black dress that she can afford to buy. The better the dress, the better is the dye that makes the fabric black. A good dye means that color will be deep, strong and flattering to begin with; will continue to remain so after a dress has had repeated cleanings.

The more simply-styled the black dress is, the more expensive it is apt to be. Simple line calls for the use of quality material and fine workmanship. But the argument for the simple dress is that it can be kept indefinitely in wardrobe service, which in the long run spells c-e-o-n-o-m-y for the woman on a budget.

If she is mature in years, she proves that she knows what she's about in picking black by the way she contrives to relieve its somberness. She will dispel any gloomy look of all-black by winding ropes and ropes of gold chains around the neckline of her dress or have more fun by mixing ropes of pearls with strands of colored beads. Such highlights are not only fashionable tricks to use this fall but are simple ones, the wherewithal for which can be dug up out of a box of costume trinkets.

ASSEMBLY SPEAKER—Marguerite Soule Shoemaker, deep sea diver naturalist, will speak at the Escanaba high school assembly on Thursday, Nov. 18. Her topic will be: "Exploring the Marine Wonderland."

Miss Shoemaker comes from a family of naturalists and as a child went with her father and mother into every part of North America in their researches into American wild life.

Her original interest in diving was the result of the desire to improve her efficiency as a lifesaver. During summer vacations she served as a Red Cross lifesaving instructor in an area where drownings were numerous. There she conceived the idea that a diving helmet would hasten rescue work.

In taking her training in helmet diving in the Bahama Islands she discovered marine life even more fascinating than the land life she studied with her parents.

Mrs. Elwyn Hawley entertained the West End Sewing club at her home on the evening of October 28. The next meeting of the club will be on the evening of November 26 with Mrs. John Seppi as hostess.

Chatham Homemakers

The Christmas work shop lesson was presented to the Chatham Homemakers club Thursday evening, November 11 in the homemaker room of the high school beginning at seven o'clock by Mrs. Michael Malnar and Mrs. Larry Barber. About twenty women were present. Christmas tree decorations were made under the direction of Mrs. Malnar and hung on a small tree provided for that purpose. Gifts were displayed and Christmas gift ideas presented and patterns made. The business meeting was conducted by Mrs. Harold Wallis, chairman. The next lesson will be "Oven Meals" and will be presented by Mrs. William Lutz and Mrs. Arthur Wolcott. The leaders meeting for that lesson will be given at the home of Mrs. Arthur Wolcott on November 23. It was decided to serve lunch at each meeting. The lunch committee for the next meeting will be Mrs. Frank Stuer, Sr., Mrs. Jacob Harsila, Mrs. Arthur Mattson, Mrs. Leo Vista and Mrs. Jennie Yimaki.

When the lesson "Oven Meals" is presented a complete meal will be served to those participating. The date for this lesson has not been set, but will be announced later.

Lunch was served at the workshop meeting through the courtesy of Mrs. George Levis, Mrs. Arthur Wolcott, Mrs. Larry Barber and Mrs. Harold Wallis.

First Birthday

Bruce Douglas, son of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Hill, celebrated his first birthday at a party at his home Saturday, Nov. 6. There were 36 guests, relatives and close friends. His three tiered white frosted cake decorated with pink roses and the greeting "Happy Birthday To Bruce," was presented to him by his maternal grandmother, Mrs. John Leppanen. Out-of-town guests were: Mr. and Mrs. Marain Beaudry and daughter Laurie Jean and Bernard Hill of Munising; Mrs. Toivo Partanen, Mrs. Rudolph Hoffman and son Jay, Shelter Bay; Mr. and Mrs. John Leppanen, Miss Betty Kannisto, and Joseph Joki, Rumely.

What makes it tick?

You can't expect a clock to work if you take it apart. The springs and wheels must all work together to make it tick. Likewise, the "springs and wheels" within our organization must all work together to bring you and the nation the petroleum products you need so urgently.

1. WORKING TOGETHER are these men and the more than 46,000 other employees of this company and its subsidiary companies. They are breaking all records for the production and sale of crude oil and finished products. Last year their wages and benefits averaged over $4,000 each—also a record. Each one of them is backed by an average investment of $25,000 in tools and equipment.

2. NINETY-SEVEN THOUSAND stockholders—more people than it takes to fill the giant University of Michigan stadium at Ann Arbor—own Standard Oil. Money provided by these owners creates jobs and the capacity to produce. No one man or woman among them owns as much as 1% of the stock. Of the institutional owners, including insurance companies and colleges, no one owns as much as 5%.

3. WE ALL DEPEND on the thousands of independent service station operators and other distributors who handle our products. Also important are the suppliers from whom we buy everything from crude oil, steel pipe and tank trucks to calculating machines, stencils and typewriter ribbons. And of course, we and the people who use our products depend on each other.

4. AT REFINERIES like the one above, we are working harder than ever to help meet your huge demand. Last year, in part by borrowing and use of earnings, we spent over twice our net profit for new facilities to increase output. This year, again, the thousands of people who make Standard Oil tick are working together, to bring you still more of the petroleum products you want.

Weyerhaeuser Pulp Co. Uses New Process

Longview, Wash.—Chemical wastes from papermaking that otherwise pollute rivers are eliminated by a ten-year development that culminates in a new Weyerhaeuser pulp mill beginning operation here this month.

The wood is digested with use of magnesium oxide instead of the calcium (lime) base traditional to sulfite pulp manufacture. Chemicals are reclaimed for reuse after treatment of the wood chips to make pulp, and the other parts of the wood usually dumped down the river are evaporated out of the liquid and burned to generate electric power.

Sounding Sentiment On Parking Meters

The subject of parking meters is again coming to the fore in Manistique with the possibility that the city council may make it an order of business some time in the near future.

With a view of sounding public sentiment on the matter, there is being sent out among members of the Schoolcraft-Manistique Chamber of Commerce a list of questions for them to answer.

The questions asked are:

1. Would parking meters increase business?
2. Would it solve the local parking problem?
3. Would the present parking ordinance be sufficient if enforced?
4. What would be the reaction of the vacationist?
5. Would parking meters hamper the snow removal in the winter?
6. Would the gross revenue from parking meters be sufficient to cover maintenance and enforcement?

This sounding of public sentiment was requested by the chamber of commerce board at its last regular meeting.

Obituary

EDWARD PAUL GENEROU
Funeral services, with military rites at the graveside, will be held Wednesday afternoon for Edward Paul Generou, who died Saturday night at his home at 324 North Cedar street. Services at the Morton funeral home at 2:30 o'clock will be conducted by the Rev. John Safran. Burial will be in Fairview cemetery. Comrades of World Wars I and II are asked to meet before the services at the Legion cottage.

Surviving him are five sons, Edward, Edward Emmet, Robert and Dourward, of Manistique; and Verlin of Grand Rapids; two daughters, Mrs. Pete Trudell and Miss Margie Generou, of Manistique; three brothers, Charles and William of Manistique and Frank of McMillan; and a sister, Mrs. George Cartelle, of Manistique. There are also nine grandchildren.

Rapid River
Girl Scout Meeting
Charlotte Huff entertained her group of Girl Scouts at her home Thursday evening. Leaders Mrs. Lawrence Hayes and Mrs. Zeph Rushford were present. The meeting was mostly given over to business and practicing Christmas carols. The troop also is planning to hold a bake sale in the near future.

Scouts present were: Marie Ethel Hayes, Carol Potvin, Mary Lee Lind, Dawn Grey, Patsey Larson, Marlene Schroeder, Mary Helen Cassidy, Virginia Burnette, Gail Rushford, Rita Ross and Marilyn Salley.

Personals
Mr. and Mrs. Ardivan Rushford of Wyandotte, who came for the funeral of Mrs. Ida Rushford returned home Monday night.

Armour Roberts left Wednesday for Kitchener, Ontario, Canada, where he attends St. Jerome's Seminary, after attending the funeral of his grandmother, Mrs. Ida Rushford.

L. P. Boyer of Milwaukee is returning Tuesday after spending a ten days vacation with relatives in the community.

Mrs. Stanley Pyke, sr., is ill at her home in Rapid River.

Margaret Jean Hayes, one year old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Hayes is recovering from a recent attack of tonsillitis.

Mr. and Mrs. Lee Lagerquist left Thursday for Camp Cass to cook for the group of deer hunters from Cassopolis and vicinity, headed by Dr. Roy Bergman, Y. S. who make that camp their hunting headquarters. Judy Lagerquist will stay with her aunt, Mrs. Oscar Johnson during her parents absence.

BORN THIRTY YEARS TOO SOON

By Williams
Incident have been few and the number of deer on running boards have been small in number as the first day of the deer season drew to a close.

The first deer to be brought into Manistique was shot by Gus Larson, local hardware man who drove into town about ten o'clock Monday morning.

There have been no accidents of any consequence in the area and the only incident out of the ordinary was the plight of a Gulliver boy and girl, who went out along the Manistique river to spot a likely place to hunt the next day, lost their bearings and were unable to find a trail until daylight appeared the next morning. They were none the worse for the ordeal.

Most business places in town were operated short handed, a few were closed entirely and the Manistique Rotary club, which usually has a good attendance at its Monday meetings, functioned with about half its members.

Bright sunny weather prevailed throughout the day and the snowfall of last Saturday was practically gone.

Evangelist to Hold Series of Meetings At Free Methodist
Two weeks of revival services will begin here tonight in the Free Methodist church it has been announced by the Rev. S. B. Dickinson.

Miss Helen Potter, an evangelist from Elkhart, Ind., will conduct the services, which will begin at 7:30.

The public is invited to attend.

Robert Kerrigan and Shirley Green of Detroit, are spending hunting season here and visiting relatives and friends.

Trenary
Miss Martha Seppa left today for Waukegan, where she is employed, after spending the past two weeks here with her parents.

DOYLE TWP.
OFFERS HELP

Donation Of $5,000 To Hospital Voted

Assurance that Doyle township supervisors are willing to help make the Schoolcraft Memorial hospital a reality is contained in a letter from Wallace Calvert to A. J. Cayia, chairman of the hospital board.

Gulliver, Mich., Nov. 13, 1948

Dear Mr. Cayia:

At a meeting of the Doyle Township Board this morning a resolution to the following effect was passed unanimously.

"That Doyle Township donated $5000.00 to the Schoolcraft Memorial Hospital" $2500 at once and $2500 on or before September 1, 1949, providing there is no illegality in so doing in the opinion of the county prosecutor and also providing the other Townships of the county and the City of Manistique cooperate in the raising of the necessary funds in order that contracts may be let and construction begun at once."

Yours very truly,
Signed, Wallace S. Calvert.

Mr. Cayia, at Monday's meeting of the Rotary Club, stated that he was confident that other townships would take similar steps, but that he was not fully advised at this time whether such action could be legally taken.

Explaining the hospital situation as of today, Mr. Cayia stated that the architect had, by eliminating certain non-essential but very desirable features, effected a reduction of $96,000. This left construction bid $584,000. This latter amount is $100,000 less than the funds secured for the hospital. To close in this gap, the Inland Lime & Stone Company has pledged an additional $50,000 to their previous pledge of $30,000. The Manistique Pulp and Paper Company has pledged an additional $7,500, making $42,500 yet to be raised. Mr. Cayia had hopes that personal donations would help relieve the situation, but such sums, he added could not be very large.

The action taken by Doyle township with action spearheaded by William Davidson, he said, gave the hospital much encouragement.

Detroit Man Is Stricken While Hunting Here

Joseph Kuhlman, 49, a Detroit manufacturer, is the first hunting fatality of the hunting season in these parts. He died of a heart attack believed to have been brought on by walking over rough terrain about 18 miles north of here.

Kuhlman, in company with his brother Frank and friends from LaGrange, Ill., had arrived at the George Sweikert hunting camp the day previous. He had hunted here for several seasons. The body was discovered by Sweikert who had been with him earlier in the day.

The body was taken to the Morton Funeral home where it was prepared for burial and was shipped this morning to Detroit where funeral services will be held.

Social
Praise Service Wednesday
The annual thanksgiving and guest day praise service of the Women's Association of the Presbyterian church will be held at the church Wednesday afternoon at three o'clock.

Mrs. Paul Sobel is in charge of the program, which will include a selection by the women's sextette, two violin solos by Rev. Sobel and an address by Mrs. Harold Martinson, of the Bethel Baptist church.

Members are reminded to bring their clothing donations for European families.

Two Local People Get Bucks Early
Among the earliest reports of those who filled their hunting license on Monday morning were Carl Lyntz, 135 North Fifth street, and his son, Clyde, 16. They bagged their 7 and 4 point bucks respectively at approximately 7:45 a. m. Hunting with them was Steve Byers, a former resident, now of Detroit, who also filled his license Monday morning with an 8-point buck.

THE TRUTH ABOUT PIN-WORMS
Serious facts are revealed by recent medical reports. One out of every three people examined was found to be a victim of Pin-Worms—often without suspecting it! And this ugly infection can cause real distress if neglected.

in our "OLDEST MAYTAG" Contest

That's right—we're looking for the oldest Maytag washer in this area. .. and when we find it, we're going to give the owner a brand new, latest model Maytag Washer in exchange.

There are no complicated rules in this contest—just write your name and address, and the serial number of your Maytag Washer on the entry blank below. Then—mail or bring the blank to our store. That's all there is to it.

Contest Closes December 15

All entries must be in our hands by 5 p. m. on December 15 to be included in the contest.

Four Big Prizes

The owner of the OLDEST Maytag Washer entered in the contest will receive A BRAND NEW MAYTAG—the latest Maytag Washer. In addition, owners of the next three oldest machines will receive valuable merchandise prizes. Read the rules below—then write down the serial number of your Maytag, together with your name and address on the blank and get it into our hands promptly.

Here Are The Rules:

1. Serial numbers of all machines entered in the contest must be in our hands by 5 P. M., Dec. 15.
2. The owner of the oldest Maytag agrees to exchange the machine for a new Maytag Washer at the time prizes are awarded.
3. Factory records of Maytag serial numbers will determine the age of washers entered in the contest. Decision of the factory as to the age of each washer entered will be final.
4. You need not be the original purchaser of the washer to win. (Many Maytags have given faithful service to several owners.)
5. Any Maytag owner is eligible, regardless of where the machine was originally purchased. (See rule 6.)
6. You must be a resident of this area to be eligible.

Note: If you cannot find the serial number on your machine, call us.

Moose Lodge Meeting
Munising—Women of the Moose Lodge will initiate a group of new members at a program to be held at 2 o'clock in the K. of C. hall. Lunch will be served after.

Mrs. Kathryn Rose was elected the lodge's new treasurer at a meeting held last Thursday night. At that time Mrs. Kathryn Henderson, of Vancouver, B. C., was the guest speaker.

The lodge will sponsor a public hunter's ball Friday night at Beaver Park. Committee members are Emily Tiernan, Leona VanDorn, Josephine Kettering and Esther Maki.

A special meeting of the lodge will be held at 8 p. m. Thursday.

Varying Luck
Munising—Deer, a bear and lots of hunters rolled in and out of this area Monday as the 1948 deer-season got underway. The bear-kill was made by a Lower Michigan hunter, who also bagged a buck to take home with it. The bear weighed near 300 pounds.

Hunters reported varying luck but a lot of the nimrods filled their licenses.

Widow Waits Ten Months For $10,000

Washington, (AP)—It took 10 months and a presidential nudge, but Mrs. John S. Power will collect on her husband's $10,000 life insurance policy Monday.

Power, a veteran employed as a civilian by the Army in Berlin, was killed in a Paris plane crash last January. He had carried a National Service Life Insurance policy since his days as a soldier.

A few days ago, Washington Post columnist Jerry Khlitz wrote that Power's widow, now living here, had not yet received her insurance money. The Khlitz column came to the attention of President Truman, vacationing in Key West, Fla.

Friday Mr. Truman ordered veterans administrator Carl Gray to check on the case and see whether there was unnecessary red tape connected with insurance claims.

The veterans administration announced a few hours later that Mrs. Power would get her money next week. But the delay wasn't all red tape, the VA added.

The government agency said Mrs. Power had to wait for her money because (1) It was six months before she filed a claim; (2) Mrs. Power also failed to indicate the mode of settlement she desired; and (3) A certification of Power's death arrived from Berlin improperly filled out.

The diameter of the earth is about 26 miles greater at the Equator than from pole to pole.

WOMAN'S LIFE TOO EASY NOW

Ruark Had Better Duck After This One

By ROBERT C. RUARK

New York, Nov. 15.—Ran into a fellow the other day who says he knows what's wrong with women—married women, that is—and why we got so many divorces and so much yack-yacking and squabbling in the ivy-twined cottage. Says he demands to be heard.

"Trouble is," this fellow says, "they aren't tired enough. They have too much time on their hands, unless they have nine or ten kids hauling at them. They got so many shortcuts to house-keeping today that eventide finds the old lady as fresh as a daisy. The old man staggers home from a rough session at the ropewalk, or whatever, and this dewy dynamo is just laying for him. She has had all day to think about how women get the short end of the stick, and she's ripe for a row. Unless her everloving takes her out and wears her down on a dancefloor somewhere, she's a cinch to start chewing on him before sack-time."

The Good Old Days
This man says that in the good old days of erstwhile yore, by the time the old man got home and settled down in the rumpr-deprung easy chair, Ma's tongue was hanging out and she was right pleased to seg into her loveseat with the second section of the paper.

"Take my Ma," this man said. "She was out of the hay at seven, to fire up the stove and fix breakfast for Pa and the kids. She had to wash three sets of dishes and make all the beds. She had to lug the rugs out in the back yard for a goin'-over with the rug beaters. If we were going to have beans she had to string 'em or pick 'em or however it is you understand a bean."

"If we ate bread she made the bread, because self-respecting people didn't eat store-bought bread. If we had butter for the bread she churned it herself. If you brought home a churn to the average woman today she'd plant a spring of phylodendron in it. My Ma washed the clothes and ironed them, and she went to the store every day for the meat and potatoes. She fed the chickens and polished the floors and ground the coffee. She puttered around in the garden and looked after her rosebushes and whipped the children for their own good and worried about the budget. By the time Pa got home from commerce she was ready to wind the clock and call it a day. They stayed married 62 years."

The man paused for breath. "Look at it now," he said angrily. "You buy a deep-freeze and go marketing twice a year. The electric washer washes and dries the clothes and the electric clothes-washer washes the clothes. The electric vacuum cleaner beats the rugs, and the butter and the coffee and the bread come ready for the table. Frozen foods make it unnecessary to shell a pea or string a bean or separate the spinach from the sand."

Ma Wants to Rumba
"You buy a performing stove and shove the eggs and coffee aboard it before you go to bed. The garbage-disposal unit grinds the garbage. With this diet nonsense you can get your nutriment out of pills."

"So they don't get tired. Pa comes home whipped and Ma wants to go off on a rumba. Or she has been listening to the radio or reading the women's magazines all day, so her head is full of soapflakes and rabble-rousing, or she has spent all afternoon telling some psychiatrist that she isn't understood. So she takes it all out on the old man. He's worried and tax-bothered and dog-tired, so he snaps back.

"They finally get to bed and both of 'em are so mad they have insomnia, which leads to goofballs or straight rye whiskey and that works on the nerves and the first thing you know she's in Reno and he's sitting up half the night with a busted flush or a quiet blonde. The family gets wrecked and the kids go to live with grandma. 'Bring back the churn,' says the man. 'Bring back the carpet-beater and the ice-cream freezer. If we don't cut 'em down to our size we're done for.'"

These statements do not necessarily reflect the views of the author, who is a married man, himself.

Keep Postmasters Away From Politics, Hoover Proposes

Washington, (AP)—Former President Herbert Hoover Thursday urged a "strengthened" labor department and the removal of 20,000 postmasterships from politics. He also advocated the creation of a better paid career service in government.

Hoover spoke as chairman of the 12-member bi-Partisan commission on organization of the executive branch.

He predicted the final recommendations, if adopted after being presented to Congress in January, will save "a good many million dollars."

On the question of rebuilding the labor department, stripped of many functions by the Republican-controlled 80th Congress, the former Republican president said: "The thinking is to strengthen the labor department."

"We're not going to tear anything out of it, as some people have thought."

The commission has reached tentative but unanimous conclusions on three of its 24 fields of study, Hoover said. He named them as:

1. Creation of a "service" agency as a presidential staff. It would embrace the budget-making activities, supply procurement, accounting and other functions.

2. Organize a career service to cut the "tremendous turnover" of civil servants.

3. Re-organize the postoffice department to cut its deficit by perhaps $200,000,000 to $3,000,000 a year.

STREET FULL OF NAILS

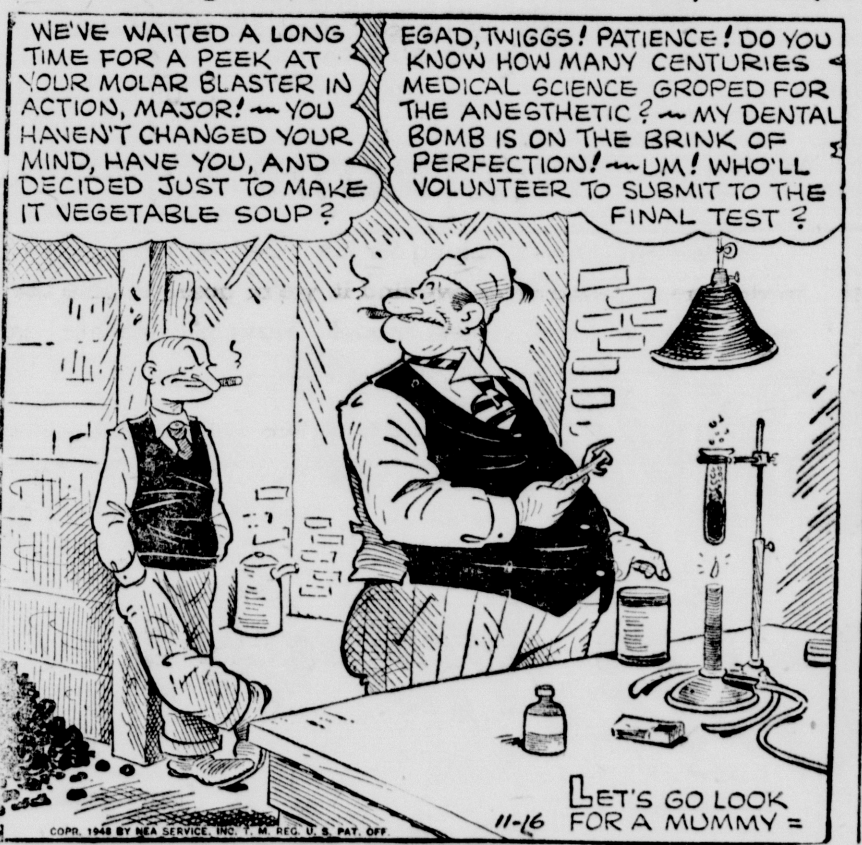

Battle Creek (AP)—Four patrolmen with brooms and dustpans worked for over an hour to clean up a key of roofing nails strewn over a city street by vandals. Apparently they were successful. There were no reports of punctures.

The term "fillbusters" was first applied to pirates and later to citizens of the United States who intervened without government sanction in favor of Latin American revolutions against Spain.

Versatile Michigan Team Out After Buckeye Scalps

By JOHN F. MAYHEW
Ann Arbor, Mich., Nov. 16 (P)—It's a versatile Michigan football team that'll be out to scalp the Ohio State Buckeyes Saturday and close the season with the 23rd consecutive Wolverine victory.

Chuck Ortmann, the sensational sophomore, has been the big gun in the Maize and Blue attack, accounting for better than 60 per cent of the team's 1,239 yards of aerial gain and about 23 per cent of Michigan's 1,365 rushing yards.

But for the eight 1948 victories racked up by Michigan, all other departments have ground out their share of yardage.

The fullback assignment, handled largely by Tommy Peterson, another Wisconsin product, has produced 365 yards, about 29 per cent of the rushing gain and 118 yards on passes, or about nine per cent of Michigan's aerial total.

From the wingback spot, where Leo Kocesi, another sophomore, holds forth, the Wolverines have drawn 410 yards on the ground (33 per cent of the total) and 215 yards in the air (about 15 per cent of the total).

Ortmann himself has rolled for 289 ground yards and gone 868 in the air.

The yardage and percentage totals have been padded somewhat by a flock of competent replacements that are expected to carry much of the Wolverine load in 1949.

With the power thus distributed, Coach Ben Oosterbaan's squad has rolled up 239 points to a meagre 41 for opponents.

The Wolverines are favored to turn back Ohio State, and win their second consecutive conference title, a trick that has been turned but seven times in the 63 year history of the league.

Favored or not, Oosterbaan's crew is expecting no soft touch at Columbus.

The coaching staff agrees that both teams will be sky-high for the game. A knockdown battle is expected.

Serious preparations began here yesterday with a review of the films of Michigan's 54-0 rout of Indiana and a preliminary consideration of the Buckeye style.

The heavy work will begin today and continue through Friday when Michigan will entrain for Toledo, O., where they'll headquarter until Saturday morning.

By Will Grimsley
New York, Nov. 16 (P)—With only one more game to play, Michigan has taken a commanding lead in the race to be named the best football team of the year.

The Wolverines moved more than 200 points ahead of runner up Notre Dame by grabbing 130 first place votes in the weekly Associated Press poll of football writers and broadcasters.

They had a total of 1,952 points compared with 1,721 for the Irish, who led at the end of the regular season vote last year.

Army is in third place with 1,426 and California in fourth with 1,288. North Carolina, with 1,034, climbed from sixth to fifth on the strength of its smashing victory over Maryland.

Completing the first ten, in order, are Penn State, Northwestern, Oklahoma, Clemson and Southern Methodist.

Prestige Picks Up
The mighty men of Michigan grew in prestige by swamping Indiana, 54-0, Saturday while their main challengers, Notre Dame and Army, were shouldering in the hardest way.

The Irish had to rally late to beat out Northwestern, 12-7, while the Cadets won in the last 30 seconds over Pennsylvania, 26-20.

The extent that the Wolverines rose in favor is reflected in the distribution of first place votes. Notre Dame, which had the largest batch of these, last week, received only 27 compared with Michigan's 130.

The point standings on a 10-9-8-7-6-5-4-3-2-1 basis (first place votes in parentheses):
1. Michigan (130)1,952
2. Notre Dame (27)1,721
3. Army (3)1,426
4. California (16)1,288
5. North Carolina (11)1,034
6. Penn State (3)853
7. Northwestern (2)652
8. Oklahoma (9)471
9. Clemson (5)466
10. Southern Methodist440
11. Georgia (2) 292; 12. Michigan State (2) 189; 13. Oregon 187; 14. Tulane 172; 15. Minnesota 69; 16. Pennsylvania 60; 17. Mississippi 50; 18. Ohio State 25; 19. Cornell 20; 20. Georgia Tech.

In his last eight full seasons, eliminating time spent in service, Johnny Mize of the New York Giants has driven in more than 100 runs every year.

Last major league pitcher to win 30 or more games in a single season was Dizzy Dean who notched 30 for the St. Louis Cards in 1934.

The 67,000 fans who watched Oklahoma defeat Texas recently in Dallas made up the largest crowd ever to watch a football game in the Southwest.

The Texas-Oklahoma game decides the annual owner of the Cowboy Hat trophy. A bronze ten-gallon sombrero goes to the winner for a year's stay.

In two National Football league games against the Washington Redskins in 1937, the Philadelphia Eagles could make only four first downs.

Picking Rose Bowler Tough Job For Big 9

By JERRY LISKA
Chicago, Nov. 16 (P)—The Big Nine may turn up this weekend with its toughest contest of the football season—the poll to determine the conference representative in the Rose Bowl.

Commissioner K. L. (Tug) Wilson yesterday mailed directives to 291 faculty representatives at each school, reminding them to make their Bowl picks after Saturday's final round of games and wire them pronto to his office.

The selection probably will be made public Monday.

At this writing, it looks like Northwestern, but Minnesota and Ohio State have a chance, depending on:

1. A Northwestern loss to Illinois, leaving the Wildcats with a 4-2 conference record.
2. A Minnesota triumph over Wisconsin for a final Gopher 5-2 listing.

And 3. An Ohio State upset of undefeated Michigan which would leave the Buckeyes with a 4-2 record and a carload of prestige.

The joker in the poll—and one that the faculty representatives insisted be contained in the five-year bowl pact with the Pacific Coast conference—is that no team could repeat at Pasadena within a three-year span.

So Michigan which will grab its second straight clear-cut Big Nine title with a second straight perfect season if it hurdles Ohio State must be the most glamorous wall-flower on the whole post-season scene.

Further complicating the poll is the fact that the faculty representatives are not bound by percentages or ratings in their bowl selections in which they must list their first, second and third choices.

It was no hard task for them, however, to conclude that 1946 Champion Illinois and the Wolverines last year were the logical teams to send to the bowl the first two years of the pact.

But come Saturday night, the conference fathers may have to burn a lot of midnight oil figuring who'll make the run for the roses.

Their best solution, of course, would come on a Northwestern triumph over Illinois, giving the Wildcats the best league record excepting Michigan. The 'Cats also created great respect in their stirring 12-7 loss to Notre Dame.

And if, with Northwestern downing Illinois, Ohio State should spill the mighty Wolverines, even the growing protests on the West Coast against the Big Nine's anti-encore ban probably would fade away.

Because in that instance, Northwestern and Michigan would be co-listeds, each with 5 wins and 1 defeat.

Then, if the Wildcats went west, the only sour precinct would be Ohio State which would have whipped Michigan which trimmed Northwestern, 28-0.

Spartans Champs In Cross-Country
New York, Nov. 16 (P)—Michigan State's runners romped to the varsity team title of the 40th annual I. C. 4-A Cross Country meet here yesterday.

The Spartans were edged out to the top individual honors but placed five men among the first 18 for the low-point team score of 51 points.

Bob Black, a junior from Rhode Island State, paced a strong field around the five-mile hill and Dale course in 25 minutes and four-tenths of a second, repeating his 1947 victory.

Horace Ashenfelter of Penn State was second with a time of 25:28; Browning Ross of Villanova third (25:41); Richard Church of Syracuse fourth (25:44) and Warren Druetzler of Michigan State fifth (25:46).

Up Against Champs, Ohio State Plans Chic Harley Party

Columbus, O., Nov. 16 (P)—Ohio State—in high key for Saturday's Michigan game—gave its football fever a booster shot today with plans to welcome home one of its gridiron immortals.

The town will do the event up as a long weekend starting Friday with the arrival of Chic Harley, Buckeye All-America fullback in 1916 and All-America halfback in 1919, from the U. S. Veterans hospital at Danville, Ill.

Even in its darker football years, Ohio State has regarded the Michigan game as somewhat of a classic. But this year—having battled from last year's cellar spot in the Big Nine to a place in the loop's limelight—the Buckeyes are cockily girding to give the champion Wolverines a rough going over.

The public will be given its chance to get in on things through the biggest invasion of outside sports writers since the famous Notre Dame game of 1935 and the biggest radio invasion ever.

At least 70 writers are expected in the press box, along with 45 telegraph operators, and upwards of 400 radio stations are scheduled to have at least some part of the game. These include the full mutual and NBC networks, five smaller networks, and eight other outlets.

That will be for those not among the super-capacity 80,000-odd who will be jammed in Ohio stadium. The official capacity is 76,677.

The team itself, in top form after swamping Illinois last Saturday, 34 to 7, will get little chance between now and the game to get hurt. Coach Wesley Fesler said only light workouts would be held.

By Hugh Fullerton, Jr.
New York, Nov. 16 (P)—The appointment of Red Rolfe as Detroit Tiger's manager probably will mean a heck of a lot to the rookies on a ball club which will have to put a lot of faith in its rookies . . . Red, probably the only guy who ever graduated from college coaching to a big league manager-ship, is a real teacher of baseball . . . If you want proof, the kids who started under him at Yale went on to reach the finals of the N. C. A. A. baseball tournament two years in a row and several of them signed pro contracts last spring . . . Joe Louis plans to open a school in Chicago next month to teach kids to become automobile mechanics. Joe won't do the teaching himself, although he knows what it's like to do heavy lifting around an auto factory.

NOT TOO SUBTLE
Last word on football's unlimited substitution rule comes from Norfolk, Neb., Junior College, according to sportscaster Don Reed . . . Norfolk was winning a game from Nebraska central easily and coach Leonard Campbell was substituting liberally . . . Halfback Tom Costello jogged off the field after being relieved and remarked: "Say coach, did you know you had in that backfield three halfbacks and a third baseman?"

STATISTICAL DEPT.
While the fans are arguing Michigan vs. Notre Dame as the top football team once more, how about a look at these figures? . . . Michigan in eight games, has met four teams that have lost a total of three games and tied one apart from their meeting with the Wolverines . . . Notre Dame's top four rivals, on a similar basis of figuring, have lost eight and tied one . . . And Army has faced a quartet that shows only three other losses . . . Statistics don't lie, of course, but these don't prove any more than comparative scores.

A KICK OUT OF IT
It says here that Harrell "Rip" Collins, Louisiana State's fine punter, was taking some kicking practice the other day when a team manager informed him he had just become the father of a 7 1/2 pound son . . . Collins had the ball in his hands and to blow off steam, he rammed his toe into the piskin . . . It traveled 87 yards and went out of bounds on the three-yard line . . . It also says here that coach Gaynell Tinsley would like to have Collins receive a similar message every Saturday—preferably on fourth down.

DOTS ALL, BROTHERS
In Utica, N. Y., Tom Ruggerio is an alderman, basketball and boxing promoter and also sells tickets for the New York Central . . . That way Tom can be sure the fighters he imports don't leave town on fence rails . . . Clemson, which hasn't had an undefeated team since John Heisman's coaching regime in 1900, now has made it seven straight and is aiming for a bowl game—No. 11 after a regular ten-game season . . . Either way it's a natural.

OUTFIELDER SOLD
Chicago, Nov. 16 (P)—Tart Wright, 35-year-old outfielder who has been with the Chicago White Sox since 1940, has been sold to the Philadelphia Athletics for an undisclosed sum.

Sugar Lacks Class In Bout With Lee

By RALPH BERINSTEIN
Philadelphia, Nov. 16 (P)—Ray (Sugar) Robinson didn't look last night like the man Joe Louis recently called "pound for pound, the greatest fighting machine in the ring today."

The Harlem dandy won a unanimous 10-round non-title decision over undersized Bobby Lee of Baltimore but many in the arena crowd of 4,792 cried "draw" at the fight's end.

The welterweight champion—weighing in at 154—obviously was far from the devastating fighting man who won the title two years ago from Tommy Bell.

He was slow and seemingly satisfied to allow the energetic Lee—beaten in his last three bouts—to carry the fight. The squat 148-pound Baltimore fighter battered the champion about the body with sharp rights and lefts. Occasionally he beat Robinson to the punch.

But even with an off par performance, Robinson received a seven to three verdict from Referee Charley Daggert, a six and four win off the card of Judge Harry Lasky and a 6-2-2 decision from Judge Leo Costello.

The Associated Press agreed with Lasky's 6-4 verdict.

Billy Conn Starts Comeback Journey With O'Dowd Kayo

Macon, Ga., Nov. 16 (P)—Billy Conn, who lost two chances at Joe Louis' heavyweight crown, started a comeback jaunt last night when he scored a technical knockout over gangling Mike O'Dowd of New York in the ninth round of a scheduled ten-rounder here.

The handsome Pittsburgher floored O'Dowd three times in the eighth round, and hardly worked up a sweat in doing it.

In the ninth, Conn pasted a hard right on the New Yorker's jaw and O'Dowd went down for the count of nine. He was unable to defend himself when he staggered to his feet, and Referee Jackie Cranford stopped the bout. The round had gone a minute and a half.

Conn weighed 190, O'Dowd 201 1/2.

Bucky Walters is the fourth pitcher to assume the role of playing manager with the Cincinnati Reds. Will White, Clark Griffith and Christy Mathewson were the others.

New Detroit Manager Puts Accent On Youth

Detroit, Nov. 16 (P)—Red Rolfe whipped into his new job of manager of the Detroit Tigers today as eagerly as if he was going after a hot one at third.

The former New York Yankee third base star, more recently head of the Tiger farm system, quickly set up a policy.

"We're going to have a hustling ball club or know the reason why," he said.

Rolfe, who has never managed a pro ball team, was the surprise choice of the Tiger front office as successor to the dismissed Steve O'Neill.

Owner Walter O. Briggs, sr., together with son Walter O., jr., and General Manager Billy Evans, named Rolfe yesterday as the "unanimous choice."

His promotion wasn't more than a few hours old before the lean ex-Yankee was talking plans for the 1949 Tigers.

Rolfe said he was going to "put the accent on youth." The Tigers, he said, have "started to run down."

"But it's not a bad ball club," he said. "If we can strengthen two or three spots, we'll be up there in the pennant fight."

He referred in particular to second base, pitching and catching.

At second, Eddie Mayo, though still a Tiger fans' favorite, is slowing up while Detroit has never been too strong behind the plate.

Rolfe himself said the Detroit pitching strength has been "grossly exaggerated."

He said, however, that he would build his mound staff around Hal Newhouse, Virgil Trucks, Ted Gray, Art Houtteman, and Freddie Hutchinson.

As to club "hustle," it wasn't surprising to hear Rolfe mention it.

For some time a chief criticism of the Tigers, fifth place finishers last season, has been a lack of zip.

The experts and second guessers were down on sociable Steve O'Neill last season on that point though conceding he wasn't all to blame. Steve hadn't been able to get the playing talent he wanted for one reason or another.

Rolfe is starting with a clean deck as far as his managerial and coaching staff goes and he said he was out after "two or three young men with a lot of fire."

"More than anything else," he said, the Tigers need "new fight and drive."

Incidentally, Rolfe said he would string along with outfielder Dick Wakefield, the Tigers' problem child of several past seasons.

He might be playing safe there because the naturally talented Wakefield appeared to be finding himself late in 1948. For a time he was in danger of becoming $50,000 bust. That was the bonus the Tigers paid Dick when he came up from college.

In the meantime Rolfe was "very happy" over his new job. He had headed Detroit's farm system for a year.

He admitted it was a "gamble" to walk out of a desk job to the post on the bench but regarded it as "well worth the try."

Rolfe, who is 40, played nine years for the Yankees, appearing in six world series. After coaching at Yale, he returned as a Yankee coach under Joe McCarthy.

He wasn't offered his Yankee job back after McCarthy left the Yanks in 1946. He coached pro basketball in the winter of 1947 and ultimately came on with the Tiger farm system.

General Manager Evans said Rolfe was a good choice because of his "background."

"He was an aggressive, intelligent player," Billy said. "His name will mean plenty to young ball players, the kind we are trying to sign."

Rapid River Wins Over Powers 33-26

Rapid River high school cagers last night defeated Powers 33 to 26 at Rapid River in the first game of the season in the Central League for Class D and E high schools. On Friday night Rapid River will play Rock at Rapid River.

Last night the Rapid River reserves scored a 33 to 22 victory over the Powers reserves; and the Powers Seventh and Eighth grade team defeated Rapid River's grade aggregation 16 to 15.

"I feel my Ford's their 'baby'. After all, it's their business and who else could do as skilled a job at such a savings!"

2. Factory-approved methods

"I know my Ford Dealer is following a factory Rx. No wonder jobs take less time (and that means lower time charges!)"

3. Special Ford Equipment

"And with Ford-designed tools doing the job, it's done right the first time. Yes sir, I like the savings I get at my Ford Dealer's."

4. Genuine Ford Parts

"... are exact duplicates of parts built into my car. They're made right, to fit right and last longer in my Ford."

Present: The Honorable Glenn W. Jackson, Circuit Judge, presiding.

Hearing having been held this day to determine the facts, terms and conditions of the sale of the assets of the said Hiawatha Manufacturing Company and there being proof of notice to all interested parties in the files and records in this hearing, and the said parties having appeared in open court and presented their views as to the manner in which such sale should be held.

IT IS ORDERED, ADJUDGED AND DECREED:

1. That all of the assets of the Hiawatha Manufacturing Company, including the said Hiawatha Manufacturing Company, shall be offered for sale at a public sale to be held in the Court Room of the Court House in the City of Escanaba, Michigan, at two p. m. on Wednesday, the 24th day of November, A. D. 1948; that such property shall be sold subject to mortgages and other liens; that the terms of the sale shall be on the basis of a down payment of five (5%) per cent of the purchase price, the balance to be paid in cash within one week from the date of the sale.

2. That the sale shall be in bulk unless there are no bids, and in that event, the sale shall be in parcels.

3. The sale shall be conducted by John F. Richardson, the permanent receiver.

4. Notice of the sale shall be given by three (3) publications in the Escanaba Daily Press on or before the date of this sale.

5. The receiver shall have the right to sell an Oakley sander at private sale at the best available price and on such terms and conditions as he chooses.

Mink Pelting Season Under Way In County

The annual pelting season is under way on Delta county's mink ranches while preparations are being made for the big silver fox roundup at the Hiawatha Fur Farms unit of the Niemann group at Hermansville.

Pelting operations began on most of the 40 mink farms in Delta county the middle of last week and will continue for a week or 10 days, depending on weather conditions. Fur buyers are expected to arrive from New York City by next weekend. Some farms sell direct to the visiting buyers, while others will ship their furs to the auction houses in New York.

Pre-pelting predictions were that prices would be lower this season, ranging from 10 per cent on blacks to 15 per cent on platinum. The pastel mink prices were reported to be holding up, however, largely due to the fact that not many have come into the market as yet. Platinum sold last year at prices ranging from $45 to $50.

The Pine Grove Fur Farm at Wells, operated by Lency Clairmont of Escanaba, started pelting Thursday with 1009 pelts as its objective. Frank Wawirka at Wells is pelting 1400 and leaving 425 for breeding. About 1700 will be harvested at the H. B. Markham farm on the Ford River road and 140 at the Dewey Meunier ranch at Ford River. L. C. Smith of Groos has 2,500 mink on his farm, but is still undecided what percentage of them he will pelt. Largest pelting operations as usual will be on Jack Whitney's Escanaba Mink and Fur Farm at Ford River, where more than 4,000 furs will be produced for the market.

Wisconsin Fox Farms Cut
Wisconsin silver fox farms are beginning a reduction of their breeding stock which in some cases will be as large as 90 percent, farm operators said.

Breeders cited large operating losses resulting from a decreased demand for silver fox fur as the reason for the drastic action. They said that reductions are made periodically to avoid a flooded market, but added that this cut is the largest in the history of the industry.

The present market is bringing only $10 to $12 for a silver fox pelt, compared with costs as high as $85 to raise and pelt one silver fox. Operators said that present fashion is working against producers of long haired furs, such as silver fox. Fashion, they said, calls for short haired fur, such as mink. And, they added, fashion cannot be changed overnight.

See Better Prices Ahead
The depression in silver fox prices shows some indication of ending, one operator pointed out, but the operators cannot wait for a complete turnabout—operating costs are too high. He saw the recent end of the 20 percent tax on fur trimmed cloth coats as being some help in reversing the trend. The tax remains, however, on all fur coats.

The largest reduction was reported by the farms associated with Herman A. Niemann & Co., Thiensville, Wis. These farms are reducing their breeding stock by 90 percent. Some 35,000 foxes now running free in fenced forest areas will be killed this year and their pelts sold. Only 1,250 pairs will be retained for breeding purposes.

Silver foxes produce about four pups each yearly. Niemann and its associated five farms normally have 40,000 to 50,000 foxes. The foxes are bred and raised in Ozaukee county, Wis., and then shipped to Hermansville, Mich. As the foxes run free for some months, their fur becomes longer and more attractive.

Shifts in Personnel
The Niemann farms are reducing their personnel, but most of the workers will be shifted to canning and animal food plants operated by the firm.

Fromm Brothers, Inc., at Hamburg, Wis., are reducing their breeding stock by 35,000 in pelting operations begun last week. The Associated Fur Farms, Inc., at New Holstein, cut their stock one-third last year and are cutting another one-third this year. Breeding stock will be reduced to 300 pairs.

Emphasis at Associated, officials said Saturday, would be placed on mink, which it normally raises. They anticipate a good mink market for another four or five years.

Kidneys that are to be broiled may be marinated in a French dressing first; be sure that the dressing used is a tangy one with plenty of seasoning.

Rapid River

Calvary Lutheran Aid
Rapid River, Mich.—The Ladies Aid of Calvary Lutheran church will meet Thursday afternoon in the church room. Hostesses will be Mrs. Dan Oberg, Mrs. Frank Nygren, Mrs. Kurt Soderberg and Mrs. Carl Stenlund.

American Legion Auxiliary
The American Legion Auxiliary will meet Tuesday evening at the home of Mrs. Frank Gerlach instead of at the Legion Hall. Mrs. Gerlach will be the hostess.

Nuptial Shower
A post nuptial shower honoring Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Ryke, jr., who were married at Milwaukee on October 6 was held Thursday evening at the Congregational parish hall. Hostesses were Mrs. Myron Whipple and Mrs. Louis Whipple. Fifty guests attended. Games and 500 were the evening diversions. Mrs. Olaf Pearson was high in 500 and Mrs. Ray Labumbard low. In the games Mrs. Elva Schramm was high and Mrs. Pyke, Jr. low. Mrs. J. A. Forest received the guest award. A tasty lunch was served after which the honor guest opened her many lovely gifts, and thanked her friends. Mrs. Pyke, jr. is the former Donna Aicher of Gladstone. The young couple will reside in Gladstone.

A. A. A. Committee Meeting
At a meeting of the A. A. A. committee held in the Rapid River high school, nominees for the community committee of Masonville township were: Hugo Brannstrom, chairman; Robert Vietzke, vice chairman; Fred Storeh, regular member; C. E. Hamilton, 1st alternate; Henry Seymour, 2nd alternate. Frank Brander explained the proposed farm program for 1949 to the members present.

SOLVENT-CLEAN
your engine for —

EXTRA WINTER POWER

A clean engine is a powerful engine! To give your car extra power this winter don't depend on mere flushing oil. Our exclusive Cisco Solvent treatment removes sludge, dirt and damaging particles... clears the oiling system! New winter grade oil then lubricates properly giving extra power all winter long!

Try our Cisco Solvent change-over today... for extra power!
